Recognize and report serious and unexpected adverse reactions to Health Canada

Reporting of suspected adverse reactions by health professionals and consumers is a key component in monitoring the safety and effectiveness of marketed health products. These reports provide important information concerning previously undetected adverse reactions or changes in marketed health product safety and effectiveness profiles.

Why report?

You can help improve the safe use of health products for your patients by reporting adverse reactions to Health Canada.

Your report may contribute to:

- The identification of previously unrecognized rare, or serious adverse reactions.
- Changes in product safety information, or other regulatory actions such as the withdrawal of a product from the Canadian market.
- Increasing the safe use of health products by all Canadians.
- International data regarding benefits, risks or effectiveness of drugs and health products.

You can report directly to Health Canada by visiting www.health.gc.ca/medeffect, or by calling 1-866-234-2345.
